

Skin Care

with

Sheila Jowkar

Presenter, Sheila Jowkar runs her business from Wisconsin Ave. Georgetown Electrolysis, Skin Care & Permanent Make-up. Trained locally in Virginia at Ana Visage Institute, and with over a decade's experience in serving clients from Georgetown neighborhood, Sheila denounces expensive products and skin-care fads! Before permanently settling into business, she has spent time in Germany and Iran teaching and specializing in skin-care products. Referring to herself as a bad sales person, she says I do what I do because “I love people, love my line of work, and I focus on making skin better”

In the upcoming presentation she will offer:-

- Basics of good healthy skincare, things to do and not do (at home) when cleaning and caring for your skin
- Use of eye creams and application
- Facials/Electrolysis: types, benefits, how often recommended
- Raffle for a free facial!

When: 12-1pm: Thursday, June 5, 2008

Where: McShain Lounge/Large (McCarthy Hall)

Inviting willing participants from the audience, the presenter will demonstrate simple skin-care techniques, and answer questions. The audience will also have the opportunity to meet with the presenters at the end and solicit tips and suggestions on an individual basis.
